LANTON.

LANTON, May 22.—The health of our little village is very good at present. The corn crop in this part of the neighborhood is late; but very few got their corn planted. March. Wheat and oats are looking fine. Gardens are looking very well, considering so much dry weather. Caring for little chickens and turkeys is the order of the day now with the women folks.

Miss Isaac Priest visited her brother at Spring Hill last week.

What has become of our interesting "Rippling Waves?" We haven't heard from her in some time.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. James Sellers of Knob Creek, and deeply sympathize with the loved ones in this their sad hour of grief.

Mr. James Price, who has been very ill, we are glad to hear is some better.

Miss Lizzie Sanders of Neapolis, spent part of last week at Mr. Bart Johnson's, near Kedron.

Bro. Anthony Derryberry of Columbia, will preach here next Sunday morning and evening. We hope to see a large crowd out.

There was quarterly meeting at Blanton's Chapel last Saturday and Sunday. There was dinner on the ground Saturday.

The protracted meeting will begin at this place the fourth Sunday in July; conducted by Elder Ridley.

BIGHYVILLE.

The Lyceum met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. W. J. Thomas. The program for the occasion was well rendered, and much interest was manifested by all the members present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Rev. M. E. Gabbard, Friday evening, June 8. A paper on the influence of good literature will be read by Rev. Mr. Gabbard, and the discussion will be opened by Mr. C. B. Adkins.

Children's day services at this place will be observed Sunday evening, June 10, beginning at 8 o'clock. Prof. J. H. Dinning, of Mt. Pleasant, will preach in the forenoon, and will also deliver a lecture on the "Twentieth Century Movement," in connection with the program of the evening. The occasion is looked forward to with much interest, as Prof. Dinning is a very able speaker.

The spring term of Bigbyville Academy will close Friday, May 25. Misses Minnie Bryant and Florence Scott recently made a visit to Mooresville.

N. R. Holding and J. H. Courtney recently visited Dr. A. T. Boyd at his home near Lynville. Dr. Boyd was on a visit to the home of Dr. K. S. Howell. Mrs. Giddings has returned, accompanied by Mrs. Howlett and her little daughter, Virginia.

Mrs. Izora Andrews, of Columbia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Neelley. Mrs. Mary Pender is visiting the family of her son, Mr. J. P. Pender, at Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. J. B. Howard is convalescent after a recent illness.

Mr. J. H. Woodley is able to be out again after about three weeks' illness, with the dreaded malady, smallpox.

Alonso Fitzgerald, who has been sick with fever for the past few weeks, is improving.

CAMPBELL STATION.

CAMPBELL STATION, May 22.—This community is again shrouded in gloom, because of the sad and untimely death of Mrs. Harriet Kerr, wife of Mr. Joe Kerr, who quietly fell asleep Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

All the family were at her bedside except Mr. W. A. Kerr, of Decatur, Ala., and Mrs. Daisy Evans of Lynville, both of whom arrived shortly after her death.

Mrs. Kerr, who was in her 47th year, had led a true, christian life since quite young. Funeral services were conducted Monday at 3 p. m. in the Christian church by Rev. Anderson and Murphy; in interment in Campbell cemetery, and many beautiful flowers covered the mound. May God's richest blessings rest on the grief-stricken ones, especially the little daughter, yet too young to realize the loss of a mother.

Mrs. Margaret Redding came up from Decatur, Ala., to attend the sad burial of her sister, Mrs. Kerr, and will remain several weeks with relatives.

Rev. Scooby of Franklin, filled the pulpit at the Christian church Sunday morning.

Rev. H. A. Gray met with a narrow escape Sunday morning, while on his way to preach at Evergreen. His horse became frightened at the train and ran across the track and was instantly killed.

Mr. W. A. McDonald and family are expected to arrive from Florida in a few days, to spend the summer here. Little Farmer Hobbs has been quite sick for the past week.

Mrs. Page of Mississippi, is the guest of her daughter Mrs. John Gray.

Miss Alice Cochran has returned from a pleasant visit to Miss Martin at Lynville.

Miss Anna Kennedy of Decatur, Ala., is spending this week with relatives here.

Mrs. Wesson of West Tennessee, is the guest of Mr. George Wesson's family.

Miss Gertrude Martin is spending this week with friends in Columbia.

Mrs. Susie Cochran and Mrs. Marge White and little son Frank, are spending this week with relatives in Bigbyville.

Miss Joe Braden, of Lynville, is the guest of relatives here this week.

GROVELAND.

GROVELAND, May 21.—The dedication sermon was preached at Pleasant Mount last Sunday by Dr. Black, of Marshall, Mo. Owing to the crowd he held a double service. He preached in the house to the ladies from John 1st chapter and 4th verse, "In Him is Life, and the Life was the Light of Men." While Rev. E. B. Surface held the congregation in the house taking up collections for the purpose of finishing paying for the building of the house, Rev. Black preached outdoors to the men from the subject of "Jonah." Rev. G. W. Mitchell of Painesville, offered the dedication prayer and administered the Sacrament of the Lords Supper.

Rev. E. B. Surface will not be here at his next appointment. He will spend two or three weeks with his parents in Oklahoma.

Rev. J. V. Stevens of Lebanon, will occupy the pulpit at Pleasant Mount, the first Sunday in June.

Rev. Luther Galloway was called from the work of men in his own church, May 18, 1900. The cause of his death was disintery. He was to the 47th year of his age, and had been a minister of the C. P. Church for 21 years. He had not had the privilege of preaching for the last few years, on account of feeble health. He was a high-toned gentleman and good christian man. He leaves a wife and two small children, one brother and sister, and a host of friends to mourn his departure.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. B. Surface, assisted by Revs. G. W. and F. S. Mitchell. His remains were buried at the family burying ground last Saturday.

Mr. Tom Wilkes of this place has purchased a new Russell saw mill, and Andrews & Carpenter of Andrews, are furnishing their engine, and this company will operate a first-class saw mill at Groveland. They contemplate sawing two hundred thousand feet of lumber here. Thomas, Cheek & Hall have ordered a new Lane and Bodley engine, 25 horse power to operate at the new flour mill during the dry season.

Messrs. H. A. Wright and W. R. Gresham have purchased a new Russell threshing rig.

Mr. A. W. Crews has sold 6 acres of wheat at 1 stands in the fall for 50 bushels of wheat, and $200 to C. C. Denton.

Prof. F. S. Mitchell closed his school at the new school house last Thursday; he has had a very successful term.

Virginia Oliver, Arnette Denton, Alma Wright and Eldridge Denham, were prize winners.

Floyd Wilkey, of New Decatur, Ala., attended the bedside of his sick grand mother last week.

A certain young lady in this vicinity walked to church a few times this spring, but we venture the assertion that she won't walk many more times, for W. C. Denton went to Columbia last Saturday and brought back a nice new buggy.

With best wishes, ROBIN.

ANDREWS.

ANDREWS, May 22.—Quite a number from this vicinity attended the dedicatory services at Pleasant Mount Sunday.

Rev. H. A. Gray we learn, had the misfortune to lose his horse by the train running over it Sunday, while he was at Evergreen.

Miss Lizzie Redding, while en route to her home at Campbell Station, returned, stopped over with friends here who always appreciate her visits.

A number of visitors were out to hear Bro. Pinkston Sunday, who is a student of the Bible, at Kimber in Heights. He left an appointment for 3d Sunday in June.

Mr. Sowell will preach at Concord next Sunday.

Little Miss Minnie Brown from Harrison's Mill, is visiting her sister, Mrs. George Caster.

Miss Sadie Scott returned from Nashville last Monday, delighted with her visit.

Mr. John Fankersley was here Sunday.

Mrs. Gertrude Miller and little Miss Esther Eugene Harrington and Jno. D. Evans, from Shady Grove, were guests in the home of F. C. Sowell last Friday night.

Mrs. Joe Harrison has been very ill and in treatment of Dr. Sheddah. Miss Fannie Sowell has been indisposed for several days.

Mrs. Jona. Tanner is on the sick list, as is lone and little Mary Z. Sowell, and Master Herndon Scooby.

Wallace T. Sowell and family are this week with relatives in the vicinity of Highville and at Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. Renfro was around in the interest of the Bear Creek nursery the first of this week.

Mrs. Griffin, with her son and family, visited Mr. Larkin Lanza's family last week.

Mrs. Boone Whittaker and son, passed through Tuesday on their way to visit her brother, Mr. Gillespie, near Lettwich.

The strawberry crop, owing to the small acreage, was very light in this section, but the prospect is fine for dewberries, blackberries, and all other kinds of fruit.

CONDEMNATION SUITS ON TRIAL

Swan Valley & Columbia Railway Against Carter's Creek Parties.

The cases of the Swan Valley & Columbia Railway Co., vs. McCormick and wife, J. A. McMeen, T. D. Simmons, W. T. P. Barry and J. P. McKee, were taken up in the Circuit Court Wednesday morning. These cases are condemnation suits for rights-of-way, in which an appeal was taken by the railway company from the verdict of a court of inquiry appointed to assess damages at a former term of court.

The case of L. T. Walker vs. the Citizens' Telephone Co., an appeal from a magistrate's court at Mt. Pleasant, was tried Tuesday, and the jury was charged Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon the jury returned a verdict awarding the complainant $250. This suit originated over a switchboard at Mt. Pleasant.

The cases of the Columbia & Swan Valley Railway vs. J. P. McKee, J. A. McMeen and T. D. Simmons were continued until the next term of court.

A verdict was rendered yesterday in the McCormick case, awarding damages to the amount of $1,175.

THE SUN'S ECLIPSE.

An Interesting Phenomena Will Be Witnessed Monday.

Will Be Almost Total at Columbia—Will Begin Shortly After 6 a. m.

The current issue of "Science and Industry" contains an interesting article on the eclipse of the sun next Monday, from which we take the following extracts:

"Of all astronomical phenomena, few are so striking to the imagination as a total eclipse of the sun. At the predicted hour, the brilliant disk of the sun becomes slightly indented at its western edge, and a black segment is seen slowly advancing, gradually obscuring the luminous surface until nothing remains but a faint pink colored arc. Daylight rapidly diminishes and is replaced by a sinister gleam that has a curious effect on the beholder; everything puts on a dull and gloomy appearance, as when night is approaching, while the sky changes its pure azure for a livid, grayish color. When the totality of the eclipse is reached and the last ray of daylight dies out, a darkness as profound as it is sudden spreads all around, reducing the whole of nature to astonishment and silence. The stars begin to shine; the temperature decreases, while the humidity of the atmosphere is augmented; animals appear greatly alarmed, the dog runs for shelter, the birds cease their singing, and the hen covers her chicks with her wings. In place of the sun appears a black disk surrounded by a reddish crown, from which rose-colored flames seem to issue. After two or three minutes, however, the spectacle is at end. The moon, which is the cause of all this disturbance, appears to slacken her grip, and Old Sol is again permitted to cover his protegee, the earth, with streams of fertilizing rays; daylight once more returns, and a feeling of relief, coupled with admiration, is evidenced everywhere.

"Such, in substance, are the circumstances attending a total eclipse of the sun; and similar conditions, perhaps with slight variations, will in all probability predominate during the total solar eclipse that takes place on the 28th of the present month.

"Eclipses of the sun, all we know, are caused by the interposition of the moon between the earth and sun, which necessarily hides a large or small portion of the sun from view. . . .

"As a general rule, the shadow cast by the moon travels along the earth's surface in an easterly direction; as a result, more westerly observers will see the eclipse earlier than those east of them. . . .

"The totality commences in the Pacific Ocean at a point southwest of Cape San Lucas, Lower California; moving in a northeasterly direction, it enters Mexico about midway between Mazatlan and the mouth of the San Pedro River, passing almost directly over Gonzales, Mexico, and Edinburg, Tex., and then enters the Gulf of Mexico about 40 miles north of Brownsville, Tex. After traversing the northwest corner of the Gulf it passes over Morgan City and New Orleans, La.; Mobile and Union Springs, Ala.; Columbus and Greensboro, Ga.; New Market and Chester, S. C.; Newport News, and Cape Henry, Va. It then enters the Atlantic Ocean, still moving in a northeasterly direction until it arrives at or near latitude 45 degrees N., when it gradually changes its direction to southeast, passing through Portugal and Spain, and enters the Mediterranean Sea near the mouth of the river Segura; after crossing the Mediterranean it passes over the city of Algiers, skirts the coast of Tripoli, and terminates at sunset in Egypt. . . .

"Usual, the darkness is sufficient to prevent the reading of common print.

"An interesting fact connected with solar eclipses is the luminous corona and brilliant prominences that encircle the edge of the sun. . . . The prominences are sometimes seen to shoot up like flames in wild, fantastic shapes, with incredible velocity, and to the height of tens of thousands of miles. . . .

"After the eclipse of May 28 next will be one of great interest, not only to men of science, who will line the path of totality from beginning to end, but to everybody that is impressed by the grandeur of natural phenomena. . . .

"The eclipse begins at Union Point, Ga., at 6 h., 32 m., 45 s., a. m.; totality begins at 7 h., 40 m., 12 s., a. m.; totality ends at 7 h., 41 m., 44 s., a. m.; eclipse ends at 8 h., 58 m., 36 s., a. m.; duration of totality, 1 minute and 22 seconds.

"As Columbia is situated west of Union Point, Ga., the eclipse will consequently begin some minutes earlier at this place. It will begin here about 6:40; will be at its fullest at about 7:40, and will entirely disappear about 9 o'clock. As seen here, it will be more than nine-tenths total.

JUDGE W. L. GRIGSBY

Found Dead in Bed at 5 O'clock Yesterday Morning

At His Home at Dickson—Had Shown No Evidences of Ill Health.

A message was received this morning by Maj. W. J. Whitthorne, stating that Judge W. L. Grigsby had been found by his wife dead in bed at 5 o'clock this morning at his home in Dickson. His death came as a shock to everyone, as he had shown no evidence of being ill, and retired apparently in his usual good health.

Judge Grigsby was one of the most prominent men in judicial and political circles in the State. He was for several years Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit, and recently served by appointment on the Supreme bench during the illness of one of the Justices. He was a candidate for Congress from this, the Seventh district, two years ago, and during his canvass made many friends. He was a genial, warm-hearted, popular man, and his death will be deeply regretted.

Death Caused by Paralysis of Heart. Special to the Herald.

Dickson, Tenn., May 24.—Judge W. L. Grigsby was found dead in his bed at his home here at an early hour this morning. He retired in his usual health last night. Not responding to breakfast, his wife went to his room to wake him and discovered that he was dead. Paralysis of the heart is assigned as the cause.

PATTERSON WINS.

Nominated for Congress from Tenth District—Carmack Endorsed.

MEMPHIS, May 22.—Fully in line with expectation since the victory of Gen. Patterson in Fayette county, the gentleman named was to day nominated to succeed E. W. Carmack in Congress from this district. The vote was just as expected, also. Patterson 58, Manson 25, the latter including 12 from Tipton and 13 from Hardeman.

The convention was in session two hours, but much of it was consumed in waiting upon the Credentials and Resolutions Committees. The actual business was taken care of speedily when it came on for action. The mansion delegates made but little effort or noise, being content merely to go upon record.

The resolutions left to the national convention the business of platform building, endorsed the administration and the renomination of Gov. McMillin, and endorsed E. W. Carmack for the United States Senate.

M. R. Patterson is a Memphis, 38 years old, and son of Hon. Josiah Patterson.
